1. Information furnished or disclosed by ASCI to Member, or by any other member in the course of the Institute's activities, shall be confidential. Member agrees to maintain all such Information in confidence, using the same degree of care Member uses to protect its own proprietary information of like importance, but in no event less than a reasonable degree of care.
2. Member agrees to disclose Information only to its employees and agents of Member or its affiliates for purposes of advancing the work of the Institute and to cause each such employee or agent to abide by the confidentiality terms set out in this Agreement.

The confidentiality obligation in Clause 2.0 and the surviving obligation under the ISA100 Wireless Compliance Institute IPR Policy shall remain in full force and effect after expiration or termination of the Membership Agreement.

5.0 Antitrust Guidance

Certain types of activities conducted by industry participants may be subject to scrutiny under antitrust laws as being anti-competitive. In order to minimize exposure of the ASCI/Institute and its Members to antitrust liability, the ASCI/Institute and each Member agree to abide by the following guidelines when participating with, for or on behalf of the ASCI/Institute:

1. Neither the ASCI/Institute nor any of its committees shall be used for the purpose of bringing about or attempting to bring about any understanding or agreement, written or oral, formal or informal, express or implied, among and between competitors or between a supplier and its customer(s) with regard to prices, terms or conditions of sale, distribution, volume of production, territories, customers, credit terms or marketing practices.
2. The ASCI/Institute and its Members shall not discuss, communicate or engage in any other exchange between Members and/or Participants with regard to prices, pricing methods, production quotas or other limitations on either the timing, costs or volumes of production or sale, or allocation of territories or customers.
3. Neither the ASCI/Institute nor its Members and/or Participants shall engage in any activity or communication, other than unilateral action, that might be construed as an attempt to prevent any person or business entity from gaining access to any market or customer for goods and services, or to prevent any business entity from obtaining a supply of goods or services or otherwise purchasing goods or services freely in the market.
4. The qualifications for membership or participation in the ASCI/Institute are set forth in the Membership Agreement and any other Institute rules and policies as well as the ASCI Bylaws. No applicant for membership or participation, who otherwise meets the qualifications set forth therein, shall be rejected for any anti-competitive purpose or for the purpose of denying such applicant the benefits of membership or participation.

7. Any adopted Specifications or sample implementations shall be based solely and exclusively upon technical considerations and upon the merits of objective judgments and thorough procedures and shall in no way be based upon any effort, intention or purpose of any of its Members to reduce or eliminate competition in the sale, supply and furnishing of products and services.

  - a. the exchange of information among competitors relating to costs, sales, profitability, prices, marketing or distribution of any product, process, or service that is not reasonably required to conduct the research and development;
  - b. any agreement or any other conduct restricting, requiring, or otherwise involving the production or marketing by any Member and/or Participant of the ASCI/Institute of any product, process or service, other than the production or marketing of proprietary information developed through such joint research and development, such as patents and trade secrets; and
  - c. any agreement or any other conduct restricting or requiring the sale, licensing or sharing of inventions or developments not developed through such joint research and development, or restricting or requiring participation by any Member and/or Participant of the ASCI/Institute in other research and development activities, that is not reasonably required to prevent misappropriation of proprietary information contributed by any Member and/or Participant of the ASCI/Institute, or representative thereof, or of the results of such joint research and development.
